Only 100 Raffle Tickets will be Sold at $100 each*

Cocos Island National Park, Costa Rica, is famous for its schools of hammerhead sharks, marbled rays and abundance of large vertebrate life. It is one of the premiere scuba diving spots in the world. The expedition will utilize the world-renowned Undersea Hunter vessel on this 10-day journey, March 20-30, 2009

Winner Announced November 15, 2008 or sooner (if all 100 tickets sold). Must be a certified scuba diver with advance open water diving experience and skills. (Raffle includes normal costs of an Undersea Hunter trip, not travel costs to Costa Rica, equipment rental etc.)

Each $100 raffle will assigned a number between 00 and 99. The raffle winner will be determined based on the corresponding first series of numbers on the national Costa Rica lottery winner on November 16, 2008. If all tickets are sold sooner, an earlier Costa Rica lottery date will be chosen and announced in advance of a Costa Rica lottery drawing.

The winner will be notified within 7 days of being chosen.

 Proceeds will be used to purchase research equipment*
